22		22 A It is.
23		23 Q If at any time I ask you a question
24		today that you don't understand, please ask me to

8	A I do.	8	Q And summarize for me a little bit
9	Q Subject to penalty of perjury?	9	about what positions you have held.
10	A I do.	10	A From essentially February 1995, I was

13	I don't want to get into a debate with you. I know	13	A Thank you.
14	there was correspondence between and you Tony	14	Q I can ask you a ton of questions on

23	MR. PRAISS: That's fine, but we	23	investigative services where I was the captain of
24	don't know what additional discovery we will be	24	homicide, bomb and arson, sex crimes, the

6	Q And you were in that position for	6	A No, I would not say that.

22	A Correct.	22	functions related to policy reviews, changes in
23	Q So my question is, what does the term	23	policy, changes in direction on that. And when
24	specialized enforcement, what does that entail?	24	we're talking about policy, we're talking about all

You cannot comply with -- you can --I'm trying to phrase this appropriately. You can be non-compliant and actively resisting, in which we would deploy mace. In general, if you are passively resisting, I am not going to go, I'm going to sit down, we would use empty hand techniques to take the individual into custody. We would not deploy mace.

As regards to warnings, as a standard policy, we do not give warnings to individuals that we are going to not -- we don't use warnings on a one-on-one individual basis. If we're going to use them in a crowd dispersal basis, then a warning would be applied.

Q (BY MR. PRAISS) That's what I'm trying to understand. Why is it in one situation you do have warnings and the City recognizes the value of them, but in this situation, prior to escalating the situation, the City has a policy that allows the use of pepper spray without person, saying, sir, your hands are crossed, you are resisting my attempt to arrest you, I am asking you one last time, please comply or I will have to spray you with pepper spray?

A But in most instances, we've already --

MR. DIERKER: Excuse me, I object to the form of the question, argumentative, compound, complex, calling for a legal conclusion.

MR. PRAISS: Wow, any other objections, Judge Dierker, from your law school days that you want to come up with?

MR. DIERKER: If I think of any, I'll assert them.

MR. PRAISS: Please assert them. I think you could add three more.

Q (BY MR. PRAISS) But subject to all that, sir, could you answer my question?

A Mostly because our goal in any situation is de-escalation and voluntary compliance. It -- everything works better for the officer on the street if we can gain voluntary compliance from the individual. Once we have reached a point where we're in a situation where we've already asked you to comply, we've already warnings? That's what I'm trying to exactly understand.

MR. DIERKER: Once again I object to the form of the question.

Q (BY MR. PRAISS) You may answer.

A I cannot give you a reason why we provide warnings other than the tactical application of the mace itself.

Q When you say "the tactical application of mace," what do you mean by that,

A The actual deployment, the -- to tell someone that we are going to take a course of action then gives them an opportunity to thwart that course of action. So we wouldn't -- if I gave you the opportunity to -- if I said I am going to spray you with mace if you don't comply, well, then you might cover your face with your arm and then --

Q Or I may just as well comply, couldn't I? Isn't that a possibility too?

A All possibilities are possibilities until they become probabilities.

Q So if the goal is to avoid escalating the situation, will you agree with me that, at a minimum, you will try to de-escalate by warning a Page 80 then told you to comply, so we've got two refusals 2 of compliance, at the third point it's time for us 3 to take action. And the individual officer has the 4 discretion of determining what that action will be. And what is to -- what minimizes the potential for, quote, injuries from taking such action.

> So we could go hands on and grab and manipulate an individual, force them to the ground, potentially causing injury. We could spray them with mace, which, while painful, does not tend to have long-lasting effects or long-term injuries. That's why it's a non-deadly use of force.

I think that is part of the explanation in that, once we have reached the stage of taking action, we are no longer in a -- required to be giving warnings as far as what we've done. We've already done that. We've already given the warnings. We've already said you're failing to comply. You're subject to arrest. We're going to arrest you if you fail to comply. That's a matter of using force.

Q But nowhere in that process is the police officer required to give a warning that he or she is going to -- about to use pepper spray mace in order to get compliance from an individual;

A And I would have to say yes, because, as we were discussing the first scenario, you indicated the two people together, yes, they are the people who are violating the ordinance. The rest of the ordinance indicates any — therefore, "every person present at such meeting or assembly who shall not endeavor to prevent the commission or perpetration of such unlawful act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

So by failing to stop them, if you've overheard them, you're involved, failing to notify officers, yes, in theory, you would be subject to.

Q (BY MR. PRAISS) Now change my little hypothetical now, say I don't overhear anything, they're just standing there, they've reached an agreement. I don't hear a thing, I don't have a clue what they're thinking to do. I'm just standing next to them.

- talking about all kinds of events and prosperity, and these things don't happen in a vacuum. There is all kinds of warnings that would be given, attempts to get crowd people to disperse, so, therefore, being taken into custody at that point could occur to someone who is not necessarily engaged in the unlawful or riotous behavior, violent behavior.
 - Q I'm really focusing on the kettle, and I think you've acknowledged to me that in undertaking the approach of the kettle coming in from four corners, it was reasonable to anticipate that some people would get trapped who were not in fact protesters and acting in any way in connection with other protesters; you recall that?
 - A Yes.
 - Q Knowing that, my question to you is, it is still the City's position that, when you have trapped a very significant, large group of people, by the mere fact that, and not a complicated hypothetical, only two people in the whole group reached some agreement to do something with violence, is my hypothetical, and everybody else is clueless, they're just kinda like, how the heck did I get here, that the police officers at that point,

Page 182

Can I be charged with unlawful assembly even though I have no knowledge of what they're planning to do?

 $\label{eq:MR.DIERKER: Same objection.} \label{eq:MR.DIERKER: Same objection.}$

- Q (BY MR. PRAISS) Again, I'm looking for the City's understanding of how it enforces this provision.
 - A Yes.
- Q So your testimony is, as the corporate representative of the City of St. Louis, that in the connection with let's say the kettle, if, hypothetically, there was two people there who reached some agreement to commit an unlawful act by violence, even though you've already testified there's no evidence to suggest anybody acted with violence, everybody else that was entrapped inside the kettle, the City's position could be charged with unlawful assembly even though they didn't even know who those two people were in my hypothetical and they never talked to them and had no idea what their intent was, but simply because they were in the wrong place at the wrong time, they could be charged with a misdemeanor of violating the law?

A They could be. We're talking about some very fact-dependent circumstances, we're that evening, could arrest everybody for unlawful assembly because they are at the wrong place at the wrong time; is that the City's position?

MR. DIERKER: Same objection.

A They -- yes. That's the City's position.

Q (BY MR. PRAISS) And since those people, under the City's position, are in violation of the law, even though, again, my fact pattern, they have no idea what's happening with the other people, they're just bystanders, because the City considers them to be engaged in unlawful assembly, that means that under policy Section XIII of Special Order 1-01, the police can deploy chemical agents at them without any warnings?

- A Potentially.
- Q The warnings -- the warning requirement doesn't apply --
 - A Doesn't apply --
- Q -- because they're engaged in unlawful activity, they're no longer peaceful?

A But it would require violence or threat of violence and things of that nature, and again, you're asking very finite questions about very fluid situations.

19	Q Yeah. So when Mr. Wall was preparing	19	A The majority of the P numbers, it

1	A There is no I mean, we use P	1	the word "mace," in his mind is he saying that's

3	Q Okay. Is there can you think of a	3	A I would say that it is exactly that,
4	reason why Mr. Wall included this column and what	4	it is mace. And it doesn't delineate which,
5	significance, if any, does it have? Is what I'm	5	whether it was the small canister or the high
6	trying to understand.	6	output canister, in the preparation of that. But
7	A I think the significance is that a P	7	it was separate from the chemical munitions being

9	Q But the fact that the P number was	9	Q So when SWAT launches chemical

12	did or what level of force was used or any other	12	purposes of this chart, when he uses the word

14	A No, I don't believe so.	14	which it's deployed, whether it's a handheld device
15	Q Simply a call to dispatch is all it	15	or a fogger; correct?
16	is?	16	A Yes.
17	A Yes.	17	Q Gotcha. Thank you for that
18	Q Okay. I think that more than enough	18	clarification. Every time there is a reference
19	covers the P number issue.	19	here to "mace" or "chemical munitions," am I
20	(Off the record.)	20	correct that under the Special Order and I/LEADS
21	Q (BY MR. PRAISS) The last two columns	21	report, was supposed to have been prepared?
22	there titled Resistance and Force. Do you see	22	A An I/LEADS report should have been

24	A Yes.	24	Q On this chart which record would
25	Q What is your understanding of where	25	identify I/LEADS report that corresponded that
	Page 234		Page 236
1	Mr. Wall would have gotten the information that he	1	would reflect the use of mace or chemical munitions

3	A That would have come from the I/LEADS	3	A The report number.

5	Q Under the column involving Force, do	5	document if I'm interested to learn about the use
6	you see some places identify the use of mace?	6	of chemical munitions or mace for each protest?
7	A Yes.	7	A Yes.
8	Q And other places identify the use of	8	Q Gotcha. Do you remember we looked a
9	chemical munitions; correct?	9	little before at that After Action Critique that
10	A Yes.	10	you submitted?
11	Q Is there, for purposes of this chart,	11	A Yes.
12	are those two terms mutually exclusive?	12	Q You recall you were the only one who
13	A I would say for the purposes of this	13	did so after the Stockley verdict? My question to
14	chart, they are not mutually exclusive. The	14	you is, is there any reference on this chart that
15	chemical munitions relate would relate more to	15	identifies whether or not an After Action Critique
16	the launching the gas guns, the pepper balls, those	16	was issued and submitted by all of the detail

19	Q When he uses "mace," does it also	19	A There is not a column for them.
20	encompass a situation where a fogger is used?	20	Q Okay. Am I correct that when it
21	A It could.	21	talks in the After Action Critique about the
22	Q Do you know one way or the other?	22	handling special/major events, that each of these
23	Rather than could, does it, is my question?	23	protests would qualify as a special/major event?
24	Because the word "mace" appears a lot in many	24	A Not necessarily. Some of these are
25	instances and I'm trying to understand when he uses	25	pop up protests that we weren't prepared for that

59 (Pages 233 to 236)

1	we had to respond quickly to. So an operations	1	row, correct, where mace was used?
2	plan would not have been created if there was an	2	A Yes.
3	operations plan for any of any of these, and I'm	3	Q Okay. Please take a few seconds,
4	not presently aware which ones may have had one and	4	we'll go off the record and identify and mark, for
5	which ones wouldn't. The larger ones would have	5	your benefit and mine, those incidents where you
6	had one if we were prepared for civil disturbance.	6	see dispersal orders issued over the PA, unlawful
7	Q So to have an operational planning	7	assembly declared, in the columns under Disposition
8	document prepared, if I'm understanding correctly,	8	and in the column under Force where it indicates
9	the City has to have some kind of a notice that an	9	that mace and chemical munitions were used. I'm

11	subsequent to that event is when the detail	11	A Okay.

13	their After Action Critique; correct?	13	A Thank you, I believe I'm finished.
14	A Yes.	14	Q (BY MR. PRAISS) Thank you, Mr.
15	Q Okay. From your understanding of the	15	Larson, for doing that. It will make the
16	systems used by the City, how difficult is it to	16	questioning go much, much quicker, trust me.
17	search for and determine to what extent an	17	A I understand.
18	operational plan was created for a particular	18	Q You notice that on topics 18 through
19	protest that's identified here?	19	24 it uses the phrase "prior protests," which is a
20	A It would not be difficult. The	20	defined term; right? In the definitions section of
21	operational planning unit would keep a record of	21	the notice?
22	the events that they have created details for and	22	A Correct.
23	they would be on file.	23	Q Okay. And it makes a distinction
24	Q And how difficult would it be to	24	between those situations when individuals are

2	after that event, assuming that there was an	2	A Yes.
3	operational plan issued for	3	Q So I have one other favor to ask of
4	A It shouldn't be difficult because	4	you. I'll give you my pen because it's red ink and
5	they would have been sent to operational planning	5	take your time and go through all the rows and to
6	for filing just as you received mine.	6	the extent the particular protest, as the City's
7	(Off the record.)	7	representative, you understand involve protesters
8	Q (BY MR. PRAISS) I'll give you my	8	challenging police conduct, find a way to write
9	highlighter.	9	maybe the abbreviation I came up with just now of
10	A Okay. Thank you.	10	PPC, standing for protesting police conduct. So
11	Q I would appreciate I've gone and	11	what I want is to have the City's understanding of
12	done my best but I doubt that I did a very good job	12	which of these protests involved protesters
13	so I need to you help me. Highlight those rows and	13	protesting police conduct.
14	as you go through it, identify on the record maybe	14	(Off the record.)
15	some information, the date, for example, where	15	A Okay, I'm done.
16	officers issue a dispersal order and/or use	16	Q (BY MR. PRAISS) Thank you, Mr.
17	chemical munitions or mace in connection with a	17	Larson. Now this should be just an exercise of
18	protest that's outlined here. See what I'm asking	18	looking at your markings. If you look at the
19	to you do?	19	Exhibit A, that you've now highlighted and
20	A Yeah. You're asking for okay.	20	identified with the abbreviation PPC for protesting
21	Q Let's slow down. Let's make sure	21	police conduct in applicable rows, for March 15,
22	we're doing the same thing.	22	2012, until September 17, 2017, when the Stockley
23	A Mm-hmm.	23	protest took place, during that time period, please
24	Q So the first one you identified,	24	let me know how many protests took place in the
25	which I already unbelievably missed, is the second	25	City of St. Louis where the police either declared

60 (Pages 237 to 240)

1	an unlawful assembly or issued a dispersal order in	1	where you have identified that the City declared an
2	responding to a protest.	2	unlawful assembly or issued dispersal order, of
3	A I'm sorry, both conditions need to be	3	those 15, how many have the abbreviation PPC for
4	met?	4	protests of police conduct included? Do you
5	Q Either condition. No, no, either	5	understand my question?
6	one.	6	A I do. I'm
7	A Can you give that to me again?	7	Q Of the 15 you've just identified, how
8	Because I want to make sure I marked this	8	many have involved the public protesting the police
9	correctly.	9	conduct?
10	Q Okay. I'm looking for any protest	10	A It looks like 12.
11	from March 15, '12, the beginning, until the	11	Q Fair to say that the vast majority of
12	Stockley protest, where the police declared an	12	the instances where the City, the police declare an
13	unlawful assembly or issued a dispersal order.	13	unlawful assembly or issue a dispersal order, they
14	A Okay.	14	involve situations where the public was protesting
15	Q So it will be in the column	15	the police conduct?
16	obviously, we're looking under the times when	16	A I think that there's numerous
17	you highlight the column under Disposition, and	17	explanations for that, but yes, based on the list
18	just count those for me.	18	that we've prepared and the questions that you've
19	A Okay. If my math is correct, it	19	asked me, those things are yes.
20	appears to be 16 times dispersal orders were given.	20	Q If you could do me a favor and refer
21	Q Okay. Again, my question was, either	21	back to your the Exhibit A, focusing again on
22	dispersal or an unlawful assembly. I'm combining	22	the time period from March 15, 2012, up to and
23	the two. I'm not drawing a distinction.	23	including the Stockley protests, identify the
24	A That either a dispersal order or an	24	number of instances where the police used either
25	unlawful assembly was committed.	25	chemical munitions or mace in responding to a
1	Page 242 Q Okay. So just so the record is	1	Page 244 protest, and let me know how many instances you
2	clear, and I apologize, but from your review of	2	come up with.
3	your highlighting on Exhibit A, it's your testimony	3	A I want to make sure I understand you
4	there appear to be 16 different instances from	4	correctly, sir.
5	March 15, 2012, until September 17, 2017, when the	5	Q All I'm asking now is if you look at
6	City declared an unlawful assembly or issued	6	the use of Force column, use of Force and look for
7	dispersal order in responding to a protest; is that	7	any situations where either "chemical munitions" or
8	correct?	8	"mace" appears, and let me know how many rows you
9		9
10	A Yes, the number appears to be 16. Q I'm puzzled because I only came up	10	come up there. A Thirteen.
11	with 13, but I believe you. You probably found	11	Q Just to make sure we're referring to
12	instances I forgot to highlight, so I'm looking	12	the same thing, it's your testimony that there is
13	again at my work real quick. Looking for the words	13	13 rows in Exhibit A where under the use of Force
14	"dispersal order" or "unlawful assembly" under the	14	column the words "mace" or "chemical munitions"
15	column of Disposition and trying to get those added	15	appear?
16	up.	16	A Yes.
17	A This time I came up with 15.	17	Q Okay. Of those 13, how many
18	Q Okay. Let's go with your number.	18	specifically identify chemical munitions, which you
19	MR. DIERKER: You were talking about	19	have explained is distinct in this case because of
20	prior to September 15?	20	use, it's referring to deployment through the SWAT
21	MR. PRAISS: Up through including the	21	Team or – but not of mace through a handheld
22	Stockley protest.	22	device.
23	A And I counted through the entire	23	A I believe 5.
24	list.	24	Q Going back to the original number you
25	Q (BY MR. PRAISS) And of those 15 rows	25	gave me of 13 instances where either mace or

2	many rows also include the abbreviation PPC that	2	already there.
3	you've marked indicating that not only were	3	(Off the record.)
4	chemical munitions or mace used but involved a	4	MR. PRAISS: Mr. Larson, I very much

7	A Five.	7	and thank you very much.
8	Q Was there ever a Code 1200 in effect	8	MR. DIERKER: Well, regrettably, I do
9	during the Stockley protests?	9	have a couple.
10	MR. DIERKER: Object to form, lack of	10	MR. PRAISS: Which is always a risk

12	Q (BY MR. PRAISS) Do you understand my	12	(Off the record.)
13	question, sir?	13	EXAMINATION
14	A I do. I do believe you're asking if	14	QUESTIONS BY MR. DIERKER:
